EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Anna Budde (248) 641-1600 on January 11, 2007.

The application has been amended as follows:

IN THE CLAIMS:

Claim 1, line 13: change "in" to --inside--.

Claim 3, line 2: change "consisting essentially of" to --consisting of--.

Claim 9, line 2: change "consisting essentially of" to --consisting of--.

Claim 16, line 12: change "in" to --inside--.

Claim 18, line 2: change "consisting essentially of" to --consisting of--.

Claim 20, line 2: change "consisting essentially of" to --consisting of--.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to teach or render obvious the capillary through hole of the applicants' invention as presently claimed.

Specifically, the closest prior art of record, Lloyd et al. (US Pre-Grant Publication 2004/0086775), was relied upon in the 103(a) rejection of the capillary element feature of claims 1 and 16. Lloyd et al. teach a porous hydrophobic layer. The examiner argued that the pores of this layer in combination with the pores of the hydrophilic layer facilitated the transport of water from the channels in the flow plates to the membrane.

The examiner's amendment above differentiates the capillary elements of the instant claimed invention from the pores of Lloyd et al., which recites the "capillary element extending through said hydrophobic layer and terminating inside said hydrophilic layer." Since the capillary elements or pores of Lloyd et al. would allow water to follow a path through both layers, they would not terminate within either layer.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
